The Willamette River is one of the things that makes Portland a fabulous, livable city. We are in a position to help to create a river that is truly safe for swimming and recreation for humans, environmentally healthy, and safe and welcoming to wildlife including fish that humans may eat. The proposed plan is lazy, relying too much on the river to clean itself rather than holding the polluters responsible. I encourage you to redraft a plan that actively discourages polluters and protects future generations of Portlanders, as well as the environment and the wildlife of our precious city.

Thank you.
